A CONSTITUTION OR FORM OF GOVERNMENT

FOR

The Commonwealth of Massachusetts

PREAMBLE.

The end of the institution, maintenance, and administration of government, is to secure the existence of the body politic, to protect it, and to furnish the individuals who compose it with the power of enjoying in safety and tranquillity their natural rights, and the blessings of life : and whenever these great objects are not obtained, the people have a right to alter the government, and to take measures necessary for their safety, prosperity, and happiness.

Objects of government.

The body politic is formed by a voluntary association of individuals : it is a social compact, by which the whole people covenants with each citizen, and each citizen with the whole people, that all shall be governed by certain laws for the common good. It is the duty of the people, therefore, in framing a constitution of government, to provide for an equitable mode of making laws, as well as for an impartial interpretation and a faithful execution of them ; that every man may, at all times, find his security in them.

Body politic,
how formed.
Its nature.

We, therefore, the people of Massachusetts, acknowledging, with grateful hearts, the goodness of the great Legislator of the universe, in affording us, in the course of His providence, an opportunity, deliberately and peaceably, without fraud, violence, or surprise, of entering into an original, explicit, and solemn compact with each other; and of forming a new constitution of civil government, for ourselves and posterity; and devoutly imploring His direction in so interesting a design, do agree upon, ordain, and establish, the following Declaration of Rights, and Frame of Government, as the CONSTITUTION OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

PART THE FIRST.

A Declaration of the Rights of the Inhabitants of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

Equality and natural rights of all men.

ARTICLE I. All men are born free and equal, and have certain natural, essential, and unalienable rights; among which may be reckoned the right of enjoying and defending their lives and liberties; that of acquiring, possessing, and protecting property; in fine, that of seeking and obtaining their safety and happiness.

Right and duty of public religious worship. Protection therein.
2 Cush. 104.
12 Allen, 129.

II. It is the right as well as the duty of all men in society, publicly, and at stated seasons, to worship the SUPREME BEING, the great Creator and Preserver of the universe. And no subject shall be hurt, molested, or restrained, in his person, liberty, or estate, for worshipping God in the manner and season most agreeable to the dictates of his own conscience; or for his religious profession of sentiments; provided he doth not disturb the public peace, or obstruct others in their religious worship.

Amendments, Art. XI substituted for this.

III. [As the happiness of a people, and the good order and preservation of civil government, essentially depend upon piety, religion, and morality; and as these cannot be generally diffused through a community but by the institution of the public worship of God, and of public instructions in piety, religion, and morality: Therefore, to promote their happiness, and to secure the good order and preservation of their government, the people of this commonwealth have a right to invest their legislature with power to authorize and require, and the legislature shall, from time to time, authorize and require, the several towns, parishes, precincts, and other bodies politic, or religious societies, to make suitable provision, at their own expense, for the institution of the public worship of God, and for the support and maintenance of public Protestant teachers of piety, religion, and morality, in all cases where such provision shall not be made voluntarily.

Legislature empowered to compel provision for public worship;

And the people of this commonwealth have also a right to, and do, invest their legislature with authority to enjoin upon all the subjects an attendance upon the instructions of the public teachers aforesaid, at stated times and seasons, if there be any on whose instructions they can conscientiously and conveniently attend.

Provided, notwithstanding, that the several towns, parishes, precincts, and other bodies politic, or religious societies, shall, at all times, have the exclusive right of electing their public teachers, and of contracting with them for their support and maintenance.

And all moneys paid by the subject to the support of public worship, and of the public teachers aforesaid, shall, if he require it, be uniformly applied to the support of the public teacher or teachers of his own religious sect or denomination, provided there be any on whose instructions he attends; otherwise it may be paid towards the support of the teacher or teachers of the parish or precinct in which the said moneys are raised.

And every denomination of Christians, demeaning themselves peaceably, and as good subjects of the commonwealth, shall be equally under the protection of the law: and no subordination of any one sect or denomination to another shall ever be established by law.]

IV. The people of this commonwealth have the sole and exclusive right of governing themselves, as a free, sovereign, and independent state; and do, and forever hereafter shall, exercise and enjoy every power, jurisdiction, and right, which is not, or may not hereafter be, by them expressly delegated to the United States of America, in Congress assembled.

V. All power residing originally in the people, and being derived from them, the several magistrates and officers of government, vested with authority, whether legislative, executive, or judicial, are their substitutes and agents, and are at all times accountable to them.

VI. No man, nor corporation, or association of men, have any other title to obtain advantages, or particular and exclusive privileges, distinct from those of the community, than what arises from the consideration of services rendered to the public; and this title being in nature neither hereditary, nor transmissible to children, and to enjoin attendance thereon.

Exclusive right of electing religious teachers secured.

Option as to whom parochial taxes may be paid, unless, etc.

All denominations equally protected. 8 Met. 162. Subordination of one sect to another prohibited.

Right of self government secured.

Accountability of all officers, etc.

Services rendered to the public being the only title to peculiar privileges, hereditary offices are absurd and unnatural.

or descendants, or relations by blood, the idea of a man born a magistrate, lawgiver, or judge, is absurd and unnatural.

Objects of government; right of people to institute and change it.

VII. Government is instituted for the common good; for the protection, safety, prosperity, and happiness of the people; and not for the profit, honor, or private interest of any one man, family, or class of men: Therefore the people alone have an incontestable, unalienable, and inalienable right to institute government; and to reform, alter, or totally change the same, when their protection, safety, prosperity, and happiness require it.

Right of people to secure rotation in office.

VIII. In order to prevent those who are vested with authority from becoming oppressors, the people have a right, at such periods and in such manner as they shall establish by their frame of government, to cause their public officers to return to private life; and to fill up vacant places by certain and regular elections and appointments.

All, having the qualifications prescribed, equally eligible to office. For the definition of "inhabitant," see Ch. I, Sect. 2, Art. II.

IX. All elections ought to be free; and all the inhabitants of this commonwealth, having such qualifications as they shall establish by their frame of government, have an equal right to elect officers, and to be elected, for public employments.

122 Mass. 595, 596.

Right of protection and duty of contribution correlative.

X. Each individual of the society has a right to be protected by it in the enjoyment of his life, liberty, and property, according to standing laws. He is obliged, consequently, to contribute his share to the expense of this protection; to give his personal service, or an equivalent, when necessary: but no part of the property of any individual can, with justice, be taken from him, or applied to public uses, without his own consent, or that of the representative body of the people. In fine, the people of this commonwealth are not controllable by any other laws than those to which their constitutional representative body have given their consent. And whenever the public exigencies require that the property of any individual should be appropriated to public uses, he shall receive a reasonable compensation therefor.

Taxation founded on consent.

Remedies, by recourse to the law, to be free, complete and prompt.

XI. Every subject of the commonwealth ought to find a certain remedy, by having recourse to the laws, for all injuries or wrongs which he may receive in his person, property, or character. He ought to obtain right and justice freely, and without being obliged to purchase it; completely, and without any denial; promptly, and without delay; conformably to the laws.

XII. No subject shall be held to answer for any crimes or offence, until the same is fully and plainly, substantially and formally, described to him; or be compelled to accuse, or furnish evidence against himself. And every subject shall have a right to produce all proofs that may be favorable to him; to meet the witnesses against him face to face, and to be fully heard in his defence by himself, or his counsel, at his election. And no subject shall be arrested, imprisoned, despoiled, or deprived of his property, immunities, or privileges, put out of the protection of the law, exiled, or deprived of his life, liberty, or estate, but by the judgment of his peers, or the law of the land.

And the legislature shall not make any law that shall subject any person to a capital or infamous punishment, excepting for the government of the army and navy, without trial by jury.

XIII. In criminal prosecutions, the verification of facts, in the vicinity where they happen, is one of the greatest securities of the life, liberty, and property of the citizen.

XIV. Every subject has a right to be secure from all unreasonable searches, and seizures, of his person, his houses, his papers, and all his possessions. All warrants, therefore, are contrary to this right, if the cause or foundation of them be not previously supported by oath or affirmation, and if the order in the warrant to a civil officer, to make search in suspected places, or to arrest one or more suspected persons, or to seize their property, be not accompanied with a special designation of the persons or objects of search, arrest, or seizure: and no warrant ought to be issued but in cases, and with the formalities prescribed by the laws.

XV. In all controversies concerning property, and in all suits between two or more persons, except in cases in which it has heretofore been otherways used and practised, the parties have a right to a trial by jury; and this method of procedure shall be held sacred, unless, in causes arising on the high seas, and such as relate to mariners' wages, the legislature shall hereafter find it necessary to alter it.

Liberty of the press.

XVI. The liberty of the press is essential to the security of freedom in a state: it ought not, therefore, to be restrained in this commonwealth.

Right to keep and bear arms. Standing armies dangerous. Military power subordinate to civil.
5 Gray, 121.

XVII. The people have a right to keep and to bear arms for the common defence. And as, in time of peace, armies are dangerous to liberty, they ought not to be maintained without the consent of the legislature; and the military power shall always be held in an exact subordination to the civil authority, and be governed by it.

Moral qualifications for office.

XVIII. A frequent recurrence to the fundamental principles of the constitution, and a constant adherence to those of piety, justice, moderation, temperance, industry, and frugality, are absolutely necessary to preserve the advantages of liberty, and to maintain a free government. The people ought, consequently, to have a particular attention to all those principles, in the choice of their officers and representatives: and they have a right to require of their lawgivers and magistrates an exact and constant observance of them, in the formation and execution of the laws necessary for the good administration of the commonwealth.

Moral obligations of lawgivers and magistrates.

Right of people to instruct representatives and petition legislature.

XIX. The people have a right, in an orderly and peaceable manner, to assemble to consult upon the common good; give instructions to their representatives, and to request of the legislative body, by the way of addresses, petitions, or remonstrances, redress of the wrongs done them, and of the grievances they suffer.

Power to suspend the laws or their execution.

XX. The power of suspending the laws, or the execution of the laws, ought never to be exercised but by the legislature, or by authority derived from it, to be exercised in such particular cases only as the legislature shall expressly provide for.

Freedom of debate, etc., and reason thereof.

XXI. The freedom of deliberation, speech, and debate, in either house of the legislature, is so essential to the rights of the people, that it cannot be the foundation of any accusation or prosecution, action or complaint, in any other court or place whatsoever.

Frequent sessions, and objects thereof.

XXII. The legislature ought frequently to assemble for the redress of grievances, for correcting, strengthening, and confirming the laws, and for making new laws, as the common good may require.

Taxation founded on consent.
8 Allen, 247.

XXIII. No subsidy, charge, tax, impost, or duties ought to be established, fixed, laid, or levied, under any pretext whatsoever, without the consent of the people or their representatives in the legislature.

XXIV. Laws made to punish for actions done before the existence of such laws, and which have not been declared crimes by preceding laws, are unjust, oppressive, and inconsistent with the fundamental principles of a free government.

Ex post facto laws prohibited.
12 Allen, 421,
424, 428, 434.

XXV. No subject ought, in any case, or in any time, to be declared guilty of treason or felony by the legislature.

Legislature not to convict of treason, etc.

XXVI. No magistrate or court of law shall demand excessive bail or sureties, impose excessive fines, or inflict cruel or unusual punishments.

5 Gray, 482.

Excessive bail or fines, and cruel punishments, prohibited.

XXVII. In time of peace, no soldier ought to be quartered in any house without the consent of the owner; and in time of war, such quarters ought not to be made but by the civil magistrate, in a manner ordained by the legislature.

No soldier to be quartered in any house, unless, etc.

XXVIII. No person can in any case be subject to law-martial, or to any penalties or pains, by virtue of that law, except those employed in the army or navy, and except the militia in actual service, but by authority of the legislature.

Citizens exempt from law-martial, unless, etc.

XXIX. It is essential to the preservation of the rights of every individual, his life, liberty, property, and character, that there be an impartial interpretation of the laws, and administration of justice. It is the right of every citizen to be tried by judges as free, impartial, and independent as the lot of humanity will admit. It is, therefore, not only the best policy, but for the security of the rights of the people, and of every citizen, that the judges of the supreme judicial court should hold their offices as long as they behave themselves well; and that they should have honorable salaries ascertained and established by standing laws.

XXX. In the government of this commonwealth, the legislative department shall never exercise the executive and judicial powers, or either of them: the executive shall never exercise the legislative and judicial powers, or either of them: the judicial shall never exercise the legislative and executive powers, or either of them: to the end it may be a government of laws and not of men.

99 Mass. 636.

II. No bill or resolve of the senate or house of representatives shall become a law, and have force as such, until it shall have been laid before the governor for his revisal; and if he, upon such revision, approve thereof, he shall signify his approbation by signing the same. But if he have any objection to the passing of such bill or resolve, he shall return the same, together with his objections thereto, in writing, to the senate or house of representatives, in whichsoever the same shall have originated; who shall enter the objections sent down by the governor, at large, on their records, and proceed to reconsider the said bill or resolve. But if after such reconsideration, two-thirds of the said senate or house of representatives, shall, notwithstanding the said objections, agree to pass the same, it shall, together with the objections, be sent to the other branch of the legislature, where it shall also be reconsidered, and if approved by two-thirds of the members present, shall have the force of a law: but in all such cases, the votes of both houses shall be determined by yeas and nays; and the names of the persons voting for, or against, the said bill or resolve, shall be entered upon the public records of the commonwealth.

And in order to prevent unnecessary delays, if any bill or resolve shall not be returned by the governor within five days after it shall have been presented, the same shall have the force of a law.

To which courts and judicatories are hereby given and granted full power and authority, from time to time, to administer oaths or affirmations, for the better discovery of truth in any matter in controversy or depending before them.

IV. And further, full power and authority are hereby given and granted to the said general court, from time to time to make, ordain, and establish, all manner of wholesome and reasonable orders, laws, statutes, and ordinances, directions and instructions, either with penalties or without; so as the same be not repugnant or contrary to this constitution, as they shall judge to be for the good and welfare of this commonwealth, and for the government and ordering thereof, and of the subjects of the same, and for the necessary support and defence of the government thereof; and to name and settle annually, or provide by fixed laws for the naming and settling, all civil officers within the said commonwealth, the election and constitution of whom are not hereafter in this form of government otherwise provided for; and to set forth the several duties, powers, and limits, of the several civil and military officers of this commonwealth, and the forms of such oaths or affirmations as shall be respectively administered unto them for the execution of their several offices and places, so as the same be not repugnant or contrary to

And while the public charges of government, or any part thereof, shall be assessed on polls and estates, in the manner that has hitherto been practised, in order that such assessments may be made with equality, there shall be a valuation of estates within the commonwealth, taken anew once in every ten years at least, and as much oftener as the general court shall order.

SECTION II.

Senate.

Senate, number of, and by whom elected. Superseded by amendments, Art. XIII., which was also superseded by amendments, Art. XXII.

For provision as to councillors, see amendments, Art. XVI.

ARTICLE I. [There shall be annually elected, by the freeholders and other inhabitants of this commonwealth, qualified as in this constitution is provided, forty persons to be councillors and senators for the year ensuing their election; to be chosen by the inhabitants of the districts into which the commonwealth may, from time to time, be divided by the general court for that purpose: and the general court, in assigning the numbers to be elected by the respective districts, shall govern themselves by the proportion of the public taxes paid by the said districts: and timely make known to the inhabitants of the commonwealth the limits of each district, and the number of councillors and senators to be chosen therein; provided, that the number of such districts shall never be less than thirteen; and that no district be so large as to entitle the same to choose more than six senators.

And the several counties in this commonwealth shall, until the general court shall determine it necessary to alter the said districts, be districts for the choice of councillors and senators, (except that the counties of Dukes County and Nantucket shall form one district for that purpose) and shall elect the following number for councillors and senators, viz. :— Suffolk, six; Essex, six; Middlesex, five; Hampshire, four; Plymouth, three; Barnstable, one; Bristol, three; York, two; Dukes County and Nantucket, one; Worcester, five; Cumberland, one; Lincoln, one; Berkshire, two.]

Counties to be districts, until, etc.

II. The senate shall be the first branch of the legislature; and the senators shall be chosen in the following manner, viz. : there shall be a meeting on the [first Monday in April,] annually, forever, of the inhabitants of each town in the several counties of this commonwealth; to be called by the selectmen, and warned in due course of law, at least seven days before the [first Monday in April,] for the purpose of electing persons to be senators and councillors; [and at such meetings every male inhabitant of twenty-one years of age and upwards, having a freehold estate within the commonwealth, of the annual income of three pounds, or any estate of the value of sixty pounds, shall have a right to give in his vote for the senators for the district of which he is an inhabitant.] And to remove all doubts concerning the meaning of the word “inhabitant” in this constitution, every person shall be considered as an inhabitant, for the purpose of electing and being elected into any office, or place within this state, in that town, district, or plantation where he dwelleth, or hath his home.

Manner and time of choosing senators and councillors. See amendments, Arts. X. and XV. As to cities, see amendments, Art. II. Provisions as to qualifications of voters, superseded by amendments, Arts. III., XX., XXVIII., XXX., XXXI. and XXXII. Word “inhabitant” defined. See also amendments, Art. XXIII., which was annulled by Art. XXVI. 12 Gray, 21. 122 Mass. 595, 597.

The selectmen of the several towns shall preside at such meetings impartially; and shall receive the votes of all the inhabitants of such towns present and qualified to vote for senators, and shall sort and count them in open town meeting, and in presence of the town clerk, who shall make a fair record, in presence of the selectmen, and in open town meeting, of the name of every person voted for, and of the number of votes against his name: and a fair copy of this record shall be attested by the selectmen and the town clerk, and shall be sealed up, directed to the secretary of the commonwealth for the time being, with a superscription, expressing the purport Inhabitants of unincorporated plantations, who pay state taxes, may vote.

And the inhabitants of plantations unincorporated, qualified as this constitution provides, who are or shall be empowered and required to assess taxes upon themselves toward the support of government, shall have the same privilege of voting for councillors and senators in the plantations where they reside, as town inhabitants have in their respective towns; and the plantation meetings for that purpose shall be held annually [on the same first Monday in April], at such place in the plantations, respectively, as the assessors thereof shall direct; which assessors shall have like authority for notifying the electors, collecting and returning the votes, as the selectmen and town clerks have in their several towns, by this constitution. And all other persons living in places unincorporated (qualified as aforesaid) who shall be assessed to the support of government by the assessors of an adjacent town, shall have the privilege of giving in their votes for councillors and senators in the town where they shall be assessed, and be notified of the place of meeting by the selectmen of the town where they shall be assessed, for that purpose, accordingly.

ART. XVI. Eight councillors shall be annually chosen by the inhabitants of this commonwealth, qualified to vote for governor. The election of councillors shall be determined by the same rule that is required in the election of governor. The legislature, at its first session after this amendment shall have been adopted, and at its first session after the next state census shall have been taken, and at its first session after each decennial state census thereafterwards, shall divide the commonwealth into eight districts of contiguous territory, each containing a number of inhabitants as nearly equal as practicable, without dividing any town or ward of a city, and each entitled to elect one councillor: provided, however, that if, at any time, the constitution shall provide for the division of the commonwealth into forty senatorial districts, then the legislature shall so arrange the councillor districts, that each district shall consist of five contiguous senatorial districts, as they shall be, from time to time, established by the legislature. No person shall be eligible to the office of councillor who has not been an inhabitant of the commonwealth for the term of five years immediately preceding his election. The day and manner of the election, the return of the votes, and the declaration of the said elections, shall be the same as are required in the election of governor. [Whenever there shall be a failure to elect the full number of councillors, the vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as is required for filling vacancies in the senate; and vacancies occasioned by death, removal from the state, or otherwise, shall be filled in like manner, as soon as may be, after such vacancies shall have happened.] And that there may be no delay in the organization of the government on the first Wednesday of January, the governor, with at least five councillors for the time being, shall, as soon as may be, examine the returned copies of the records for the election of governor, lieutenant-governor, and councillors; and ten days before the said first Wednesday in January he shall issue his summons to such persons as appear to be chosen, to attend on that day to be qualified accordingly; and the secretary shall lay the returns before the senate and house of representatives on the said first Wednesday in January, to be by them examined; and in case of the election of either of said officers, the choice

The qualification of the voters, the manner of the election, the return of the votes, and the declaration of the election, shall be such as are required in the election of governor. In case of a failure to elect either of said officers on the day in November aforesaid, or in case of the decease, in the mean time, of the person elected as such, such officer shall be chosen on or before the third Wednesday in January next thereafter, from the two persons who had the highest number of votes for said offices on the day in November aforesaid, by joint ballot of the senators and representatives, in one room ; and in case the office of secretary, or treasurer and receiver-general, or auditor, or attorney-general, shall become vacant, from any cause, during an annual or special session of the general court, such vacancy shall in like manner be filled by choice from the people at large ; but if such vacancy shall occur at any other time, it shall be supplied by the governor by appointment, with the advice and consent of the council. The person so chosen or appointed, duly qualified in other respects, shall hold his office until his successor is chosen and duly qualified in his stead. In case any person chosen or appointed to either of the offices aforesaid, shall neglect, for the space of ten days after he could otherwise enter upon his duties, to qualify himself in all respects to enter upon the discharge of such duties, the office to which he has been elected or appointed shall be deemed vacant. No person shall be eligible to either of said offices unless he shall have been an inhabitant of this commonwealth five years next preceding his election or appointment.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1. The valuation at which the poles, wires and underground conduits, wires and pipes of all telephone and telegraph companies, shall be assessed by the assessors of the respective cities and towns in which such property is subject to taxation in accordance with laws now or hereafter in force shall, subject to appeal to the board of appeal as hereinafter provided, be determined annually by the tax commissioner and shall by him be certified to the assessors on or before the fifteenth day of June. A board of assessors aggrieved by a valuation made by the tax commissioner under the provisions of this act may, within ten days after notice of his valuation, apply to the board of appeal established by section sixty-eight of Part III of chapter four hundred and ninety of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and nine. Said board shall hear and decide the subject-matter of such appeal and give notice of its decision to the tax commissioner and to the assessors; and its decision as to the valuation of the property shall be final and conclusive. The assessors shall, in the manner provided by law, assess the poles, wires and underground conduits, wires and pipes of all telephone and telegraph companies as certified and at the value determined by the tax commissioner or by the board of appeal under the provisions of this act, and such assessment by a board of assessors shall be deemed to be a full compliance with the oath of office of each assessor and a full performance of his official duty with relation to the assessment of such property, except as is provided in section two of this act.

Assessors to place valuation upon poles, wires, etc., of telephone and telegraph companies, etc.

Appeal.

SECTION 2. Every board of assessors shall, as and when required by the tax commissioner, furnish him with any and all information in its knowledge or possession relating to any property, the value of which he is required to determine under the provisions of this act.

SECTION 3. Every telephone or telegraph company owning any property required to be valued by the tax commissioner under the provisions of this act shall annually, on or before a date determined by the commissioner but in no case later than the first day of June, make a return to the commissioner signed and sworn to by its treasurer. This return shall be in the form and detail prescribed by the commissioner and shall contain all information which he shall consider necessary to enable him to make the valuations required by this act, and shall relate, so far as is possible, to the situation of the company and its property on the first day of April of the year in which it is made. Property returned to the tax commissioner as herein provided need not be included in the list required to be filed by a telephone or telegraph company under the provisions of section forty-one of Part I of chapter four hundred and ninety of the acts of the year nineteen hundred and nine.

SECTION 4. If any company, or any treasurer thereof, shall in any year refuse or neglect to make the return required by section three hereof, then the tax commissioner shall estimate the value of the property of the company, and in such case the value determined by the commissioner shall be not less than twice the value determined by him in the previous year.

SECTION 5. Any company aggrieved by the taxes assessed upon it relating to any property valued in accordance with the provisions of this act may, within six months after the date of its tax bill, apply to the tax commissioner for an abatement thereof; and if the tax commissioner finds that the company is taxed at more than its just proportion, or upon an assessment of any of its said property in excess of its fair cash value, he shall make a reasonable abatement. No company which has not duly filed the return required by section three hereof shall have an abatement unless it shall furnish to the tax commissioner a reasonable excuse for the delay, or unless such tax exceeds by more than fifty per cent the amount of the tax which would have been assessed upon such property if the return had been seasonably filed, and in such case only the excess over such fifty per cent shall be abated. Whenever any application for abatement hereunder is made, the tax commissioner shall give notice thereof to the assessors of the city or town in which is located any of the property with reference to which an abatement of the tax is asked for, and such assessors may appear before the tax commissioner and may be heard by him with relation to the subject of the abatement. The tax commissioner shall, within ten days after his decision upon an application for abatement hereunder, give written notice thereof to the applicant and to the assessors. A company aggrieved by the refusal of the tax commissioner to abate a tax hereunder may prosecute an appeal from the decision of the tax commissioner in the manner and to the tribunals provided for a person aggrieved by the refusal of assessors to abate a tax, and all laws now or hereafter in force relating to such an appeal from a refusal of assessors to abate a tax shall apply in proceedings hereunder. officer or board created by law an amount not exceeding one twelfth of the estimated cost for the current year, but all interest and debt falling due in said interval shall be paid. Nothing in this section shall prevent the mayor from recommending, and the city council from making, appropriations prior to the adoption of the annual budget, — so as to read as follows: — Section 20. Within sixty days after the annual organization of the city government, the mayor of every city, except Boston and those cities having the commission form of government, so-called, shall submit to the city council the annual budget of the current expenses of the city, and the mayor may submit thereafter supplementary budgets. The budget shall consist of an itemized and detailed statement of the money required, and the city council shall make such appropriations in detail, clearly specifying the amount to be expended for each particular purpose, but the budget shall not be in such detail as to fix a specific salary of employees under the direction of boards elected by the people, other than the city council. The city council may reduce or reject any item, but, without the approval of the mayor, shall not increase any item in nor the total of a budget, nor add any item thereto. It shall be the duty of the city officials, when so requested by the mayor, to submit to him forthwith in such detail as he may require estimates for the next fiscal year of the expenditures of their departments or offices under their charge, which estimate shall be transmitted to the city council. In case of the failure of the mayor to transmit in writing to the city council a recommendation for an appropriation of money for any purpose deemed by the council to be necessary, and after having been so requested by vote of the city council, said council, after the expiration of seven days after such vote, upon its own initiative, may make an appropriation for such purpose by a vote of at least two thirds of its members, and shall in all cases make such appropriations in detail, clearly specifying the amount to be expended for each particular purpose, but the budget shall not be in such detail as to fix a specific salary of employees under the direction of boards elected by the people, other than the city council; and in cities having the commission form of government, so-called, each commissioner or director shall, within thirty days after the annual organization of the city government, submit to the commissioner or director of finance estimates in such detail as he may require of the amounts deemed necessary for the current expenses for their respective departments, and the commissioner or director of finance shall within thirty days thereafter submit to the city council a budget consisting of an itemized and detailed statement of the money required, but the budget shall not be in such detail as to fix a specific salary of employees under the direction of boards elected by the people, other than the city council, and may submit thereafter supplemental budgets, and the budget or budgets shall be passed by a majority vote of the city council. In case of the failure of the finance commissioner or director to transmit in writing to the city council a recommendation for an appropriation of money for any purpose deemed by the council to be necessary, and after having been requested by vote of the city council, said council, after the expiration of seven days after such vote, upon its own initiative, may make an appropriation for such purpose by a vote of at least two thirds of all its members, and shall in all cases make such appropriations in detail, clearly specifying the amount to be expended for each particular purpose, but the budget shall not be in such detail as to fix a specific salary of employees under the direction of boards elected by the people, other than the city council. In the period after the expiration of any fiscal year and before the regular appropriations have been made by the city council, the city officers who are authorized to make expenditures may incur liabilities in carrying on the work of the several departments entrusted to them, and payments therefor shall be made from the treasury from any available funds therein, and the same shall be charged against the next annual appropriation: provided, that the liabilities incurred during said interval do not exceed in any month the sums spent for similar purposes during any one month of the preceding year; and provided, further, that said officers may expend in any one month for any new officer or board created by law an amount not exceeding one twelfth of the estimated cost for the current year, but all interest and debt falling due in said interval shall be paid. Nothing in this section shall prevent the mayor from recommending, and the city council from making, appropriations prior to the adoption of the annual budget.

Failure of commissioner of finance to transmit recommendations.

SECTION 3. The said commissioners may accept, on behalf of the county of Hampden, the city of Springfield or the town of West Springfield, a gift of any land which may be needed for approaches to said bridge or for the laying out of any highway or highways from the approaches to any existing highway, and, on behalf of said county, city or town, may accept any contract for the conveyance of any such land conditioned upon the construction or opening for use of said bridge, and, on behalf of said county, city or town, may accept any bond conditioned on the conveyance to said county, city or town of any such land absolutely or upon the aforesaid condition.

Be it enacted, etc., as follows:

Construction and maintenance of a new bridge over the Neponset river between Boston and Quincy.

SECTION 1. The metropolitan park commission shall forthwith construct as a highway a new bridge across the Neponset river, to be known as Neponset bridge, at or near the present site of the so-called Neponset bridge, from Neponset avenue in Boston to Hancock street in Quincy; shall construct any necessary approaches to said bridge on each end thereof; may construct a temporary highway bridge to be used by vehicles, street railway cars, and pedestrians during such construction; shall cause shoals to be dredged or otherwise removed so as to afford vessels passing to or through the draw of the bridge a depth of water equal at least to that now afforded; and shall take such lands for the approaches to the bridge as it shall deem necessary for carrying out the provisions of this act, and shall cause all lands so taken to be properly filled and graded.

Directors of port of Boston may allow use of land or flats, etc.

SECTION 2. The directors of the port of Boston shall authorize such occupation of lands or flats outside the harbor lines, at and near each end of said bridge, as said metropolitan park commission may deem necessary for the proper construction of the bridge and for avoiding angles that will tend to cause collections of floating matter.

Metropolitan park commission to prepare plans, etc.

SECTION 3. Said bridge shall be constructed substantially in accordance with the plans prepared by the metropolitan park commission, approved by the mayors of the cities of Boston and Quincy. The Bay State Street Railway Company, or the street railway company contributing to the cost of the bridge, hereinafter referred to, shall have ten days to examine the plans submitted as above and to make such suggestions to the commission as it may deem fit.

Style of bridge.

The bridge shall be suitable for all purposes of ordinary travel and for two tracks of the Bay State, or other street railway company, which are to replace, in such location as the said commission shall determine, the single track now operated by the Bay State Street Railway Company over said bridge; and shall be built not less than sixty feet in width, and with a draw having a clear opening not less than fifty feet in width. No compensation for displacement of tide water or for occupying any land or flats of the commonwealth shall be required from said cities or from the said metropolitan park commission.

SECTION 4. The approaches to said bridge shall be laid out by said commission as a highway not less than sixty feet in width in the vicinity of the abutments of the bridge at either end. In laying out the approaches to the bridge the commission shall have the same power and authority to determine the value of, and to assess upon, collect and abate, the betterments accruing to any real estate by reason of any taking made by said commission under the provisions of this act of land for either of the approaches to said bridge, which said commission now has in respect to the locating and laying out of roadways and boulevards.

SECTION 5. The cost of the laying out and constructing of said approaches, the cost of construction of the abutments and other parts of said bridge, changing the channel of the river, including the cost of the temporary highway bridge and including all other expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act, shall be deemed the cost of construction of the bridge. The cost of the work authorized by this act shall not exceed three hundred and fifty thousand dollars and shall be paid, together with any interest on any money borrowed, as follows:—Twenty per cent by the city of Boston; fifteen per cent by the city of Quincy; five per cent by the county of Norfolk; two and one half per cent by the county of Plymouth; fifteen per cent by the Bay State Street Railway Company or such other street railway company as shall have a location on said bridge, as aforesaid; and forty-two and one half per cent in the same manner as expenditures made from appropriations authorized to carry out the provisions of said chapter two hundred and eighty-eight of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto.

SECTION 6. To meet the expenses incurred under the provisions of this act the treasurer and receiver general is hereby authorized, with the approval of the governor and council, to issue bonds or certificates of indebtedness to an amount not exceeding three hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in addition to the amounts already authorized under the provisions of said chapter two hundred and eighty-eight and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto, and as part of the Metropolitan Parks Loan, Series Two. The treasurer and receiver general shall annually assess upon the Bay State Street Railway Company, or such other street railway company as shall have a location on said bridge, such sums as may be necessary to provide for the payment of fifteen per cent of the serial bond and interest requirements. The remaining requirements for serial bonds and interest payments, and for the maintenance of said bridge, not herein provided for shall be determined, collected and paid in the manner set forth in chapter four hundred and nineteen of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninety-nine, to meet the interest and sinking fund requirements of loans or appropriations authorized to carry out the purposes of chapter two hundred and eighty-eight of the acts of the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four and acts in amendment thereof and in addition thereto, and to meet the expenses of the care and maintenance of boulevards and parkways. Payment of its proportionate part of the cost of the work, as fixed by this section, by the Bay State Street Railway Company or by such other company as shall have a location on said bridge at the time of its completion, shall constitute one of the terms and conditions under which such company shall hold its location on said bridge, and failure to make such payment within a reasonable time after certification by the state treasurer, as above

Each bond shall be designated on the face thereof, Neponset Bridge Loan, and the proceeds shall be used by said cities to meet the cost to be paid by them respectively under this act. The said bonds shall bear interest, payable semi-annually, at a rate not exceeding four per cent per annum, and shall be payable at such times, not less than ten nor more than forty years from their respective dates, as shall be determined respectively by the treasurer and mayor of the city of Boston and by vote of the city council of the city of Quincy, and as shall be expressed upon the face of the bonds. PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION.

The following proposed article of amendment to the Constitution has been officially certified and deposited in the office of the secretary of the Commonwealth, as required by section 20 of chapter 3 of the Revised Laws, and if agreed to by the general court next to be chosen, in the manner provided by the Constitution, must be submitted to the people for their ratification or rejection: —

RESOLVE PROVIDING FOR AN AMENDMENT OF THE CONSTITUTION STRIKING OUT THE REQUIREMENT THAT ASSESSMENTS, RATES AND TAXES BE PROPORTIONAL.

Resolved, That it is expedient to alter the constitution of the commonwealth by the adoption of the subjoined article of amendment; and that the said article, being agreed to by a majority of the senators and two thirds of the members of the house of representatives present and voting thereon, be entered on the journals of both houses, with the yeas and nays taken thereon, and be referred to the general court next to be chosen; and that the said article be published, to the end that if agreed to in the manner provided by the constitution, by the general court next to be chosen, it may be submitted to the people for their approval and ratification, in order that it may become a part of the constitution of the commonwealth.

Proposed article of amendment to the constitution.

ARTICLE OF AMENDMENT.

Article IV of section I of chapter I of Part the Second of the constitution of the commonwealth is hereby amended by striking out the words "proportional and", in the eighteenth line thereof.

Striking out requirement that taxes, etc., be "proportional."

SENATE, May 12, 1915.

The foregoing article of amendment is agreed to by the Senate, a majority of the Senators present and voting thereon having voted in the affirmative; and the same is referred to the general court next to be chosen.

CALVIN COOLIDGE, President.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, May 19, 1915.

The foregoing article of amendment is agreed to, two thirds of the members of the House of Representatives present and voting thereon having voted in the affirmative; and the same is referred, in concurrence, to the general court next to be chosen.

CHANNING H. COX, Speaker.

The general court of 1915, during its annual session, passed 302 General Acts, 379 Special Acts and 147 resolves which received executive approval.

Two (2) General Acts entitled, respectively, "An Act relative to the planting and cultivating of clams and quahaugs in the county of Barnstable", (Chapter 128); and "An Act to authorize the payment of compensation for travel to the pages in the department of the sergeant-at-arms", (Chapter 202); and five (5) Special Acts entitled, respectively, "An Act to authorize the city of Boston to pay a sum of money to the widow of John F. Kennedy", (Chapter 78); "An Act to authorize the town of Hull to pay a sum of money to Eugene Mitchell, Junior, and William B. G. Mitchell", (Chapter 93); "An Act to authorize the city of New Bedford to incur indebtedness for the purpose of erecting a new central fire station", (Chapter 247); "An Act relative to the erection of buildings in the city of Boston", (Chapter 254); and "An Act to extend the time for the operation of certain lines of the Hampden Railroad Corporation", (Chapter 292), were passed, but failed to receive executive approval; as, however, they were not returned, with objections thereto, within five days after they had been received in the executive department, the general court not having been prorogued in the meantime, said acts have the force of laws, under the provisions of the constitution governing such cases, and have been so certified.

Two (2) General Acts entitled, respectively, "An Act to regulate the transportation and delivery of intoxicating liquor", and "An Act to prohibit the sale or delivery of milk or cream produced under unhealthful conditions", one (1) Special Act, entitled "An Act relative to the control of Neptune road in the city of Boston", and one (1) resolve, entitled "A Resolve providing for reimbursing owners of cattle destroyed on account of the foot and mouth disease", were passed and laid before the governor for his approval; were returned by him with his objections thereto, to the branch in which they respectively originated; were reconsidered, and the vote being taken on passing the same, the objections of the governor thereto notwithstanding, they were rejected, and said acts and said resolve thereby became void.

One (1) General Act entitled "An Act relative to the issue of stock, bonds, notes or other evidences of indebtedness by railroad corporations", and one (1) Special Act, entitled "An Act relative to the capitalization of the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad Company and the further supervision of said company by the commonwealth", were passed and laid before the governor for his approval; were returned by him with his objections thereto, to the senate, the branch in which they respectively originated; were reconsidered; were laid on the table, and were not again taken up (two (2) acts, of similar tenor, viz. Chapter 303, General, and Chapter 383, Special, having been passed and having received executive approval).

The general court of 1915 also passed "A Resolve providing for an amendment of the constitution striking out the requirement that assessments, rates and taxes be proportional", which resolve is filed in the office of the secretary of the commonwealth, for action by the general court of 1916.

The general court was prorogued on Friday, June 4, at 11.28 P.M., the session having occupied 150 days.
